To whom it may concern,

I've been reading online of Microsofts' recent purchases of OpenGL technology. I am VERY disturbed about the potential problems of this. They have been working against OpenGL ever since they started developing directX and direct3d. I'm sure MS would love to kill all 3rd party efforts in the 3d graphics world so their new xbox and similar technologies can totally dominate the planet. PLEASE DON'T LET THIS HAPPEN!!!!
